DRAYTON VALLEY HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

Sometime during the first week of February is the tentative date set for moving of the high school staff and students to the first unit of the new high school building now undergoing finishing touches by Stony Plain School Division carpenters.

Ready for use about that time will be the first five rooms and the science room in the first unit of the high school, which is shown below in a photograph taken from the architect's blueprints. The first unit will also have a modern gymnasium, with a new feature; it will be constructed with stage on the side, flanked by dressing rooms and showers. Older-type gyms have stages on the end; the side-stage is a departure from old style construction. The gym will not be ready for a few weeks yet, however.

The new unit, of eight classrooms and library, will be constructed as soon as weather permits, and will be ready for use at the opening of the school term next fall. Originally, Stony Plain School Division plans had not called for construction of the second unit to begin for a couple of years after the first unit was completed, but Drayton Valley is growing and expanding so fast that School Division Board felt construction on the second unit should start as soon as possible to be ready for this fall.

If a Shop teacher and a Home Economics teacher can be obtained for next year's term a shop and home ec. room will be built, probably as a separate building, apart from the main structure.

The first unit will cost $215,000. The second section will cost about $134,000.00 for a total of $349,000.00.

CALGARY POWER LTD. News

Serving the province of ALBERTA

Calgary Power Ltd. supplies Alberta with over sixty percent of its electric energy needs. The company was established in 1909 and began operating the first major hydro-electric plant—the Hotchkiss Falls Plant—on the Bow River in 1911. Power was then supplied to The City of Calgary, the Village of Cochrane and the cement plant at Eshwara. Today the Company's high voltage transmission lines serve 60 percent of the Province's population area, an area of 75,000 square miles, embracing Alberta's growing industrial centres.

Calgary Power Ltd. is an all Canadian company. It is not a subsidiary of any other company—74 percent of the shares are held in Canada, 9 percent in the United States and 7 percent Overseas—mainly in the U.K.

CALGARY, January 13th:

During 1959 the load on the Company's system increased by 16 percent. Total energy consumed amounted to 1,520,000 kilowatt hours, an increase of 225,000, 000 kilowatt hours over 1958. Transmission and distribution lines were extended and strengthened throughout the system in order to meet the increased demand for power. No new generating plant was commissioned in 1959, but work is well ahead on extensions to the Spray and Rundle hydro plants on the Bow River, west of Calgary, and at the Big Bend site on the Brazeau River, a tributary of the North Saskatchewan.

Engineering and design work is going forward for the third generating unit at the Wabamun steam plant, west of Edmonton. These developments when completed will represent 300, 000 kilowatts of additional capacity from 400, 000 kilowatts to 700, 000 kilowatts, an increase of nearly 80 percent over the five year 1951 to 1955. This compares with an increase of nearly 115 per cent over the previous five year period 1935 to 1950.

In 1959 over 11, 000 new consumers were added to the system, bringing the number served directly to 106, 000. Approximately 10 1/2 million kilowatt hours were spent for new and improved electrical facilities last year. It is estimated some 22 million dollars will be spent in 1960.

Generating Capacity Development:

The Spray and Rundle hydro plant extensions will be commissioned in the Autumn of 1960. A 50, 000 kilowatt unit will be added to the Spray plant, doubling its capacity, and a 30, 000 kilowatt unit will be added to the Rundle plant—present capacity 17, 000 kilowatts. The cost of these extensions will be some $6, 500, 000.

Preliminary work is in progress at the Big Bend hydro power site on the Brazeau River. Excavation work is being carried out for the two 15 foot diameter, 1, 000 foot long concrete unwatering conduits. These conduits will divert the flow of the river so that the main dam can be constructed.

The initial unit is now scheduled for completion by the Autumn of 1963. It will include the main dam 2 1/2 miles long with a maximum height of 250 feet, a reservoir with 930, 000 acre feet of usable storage covering an area of 27 square miles under 15 feet of drawdown, a power house which will contain a 150, 000 kilowatt generating unit operating under 500 feet of head, a 10 mile canal which will convey water from the dam to the power house. The cost of this initial development will be some $45, 000, 000.

Engineering and design work on the 150, 000 kilowatt unit for the Wabamun Steam Plant is progressing according to schedule. This third unit will burn coal from the strip coal field adjacent to the plant. The $1, 500, 000 stripping dragline, which will remove the earth and shale overlying the coal will be the second largest in Canada. It is on order from England for delivery in the Spring of 1961. It will take 10 months to erect, weigh 1, 400 tons and will move material at 50 ft/min. The dragline will be electrically operated.

To get the Wabamun strip mine in operation will cost some 4 1/2 million dollars; and about 50 men will be employed in producing coal.

The third unit at the plant, which will be coal fired, will cost some $18, 000, 000 and is scheduled to be commissioned in the Autumn of 1962.

Transmission and Distribution: Nearly 200 miles of 138, 000 volt high-voltage transmission trunk lines were constructed throughout various parts of the system in 1959, bringing the total mileage of high-voltage lines to 138, 000 volts and over to 4, 895 miles—nearly the distance of the Trans-Canada Highway from Coast to Coast. Two hundred and seventy five miles of distribution lines were also constructed, bringing the total to 3, 229 distribution miles.

The construction of these transmission and distribution lines was made necessary by the increasing power demand. Seven new substations were constructed during the year and extensions and additions were made to nine. New Towns, Villages & Hamlets Six new towns, villages and hamlets were added to the system.

The Company connected over 500 additional oil well pump services, about 60 battery pumping services and nearly 40 battery lighting services. Other services, totalling 1, 500 horsepower were connected, mainly for secondary pumping purposes. Four new oil fields were served during the year: Okotoks, Carrington, Gabriel Lake and Glenora.

The Company now supplies a total of 3, 950 oil well services, 628 battery pump and 563 battery lighting services. There is a total of 10, 618 installed horsepower in other oil field loads. The load in the oil fields is continuing to grow. Automation and secondary recovery schemes in the oil fields, particularly in the Ponoka field, have accounted for much of the continuing growth.

Industrial Growth: The industrial load increased by 125, 000, 000 kilowatt hours during 1959. The general industrial upswing that took place during the year increased the demand

SKI CLUB TO MEET

For power. It is expected that the industrial load will increase even more in 1960. A large portion of this new load will come from the oil industry.

Farm Electrification:

The Company's non-profit subsidiary, Farm Electric Services Limited, electrified 2, 511 farms during 1959. The total number of farms served by the Company reached 25, 030 or 71 percent of the electrified farms in the Province.

Over 1, 400 miles of new farm lines were built, bringing the total mileage of farm lines to 55, 047 miles, enough miles to circle the earth.

It is estimated that around 1, 700 new farms will receive power in 1960.

Skiing enthusiasts are finding the ski hill east of Drayton Valley in good shape. The ski run is about a thousand feet in length. It is located east of the bridge on the south side of the hill. Everyone who likes to ski is welcome to come out and try out on the hill. The Ski Club has their own refreshment stand, "Ski Doodle-Do", which is open from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Saturdays and from 5:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. Sundays. Hot coffee and refreshments are served.

A temporary ski-tow is being planned for the slope by Drayton Valley Ski Club. Next meeting of the Ski Club is January 15th, Saturday, at 8:00 p.m. The Club will meet at 5:00, 400 Street, three doors north of the Church of God. President of the Club is Rev. J.C. Wulff, Secretary-treasurer is Walter Dietz.

Food for thought

By: Danita Bolling.

This week you read in this column, if any, might just as well turn the page as this is going to be strictly among we gals. A recent trip into Edmonton and a day to just breathe around in the stores should give you a slight hint what it is on my mind. I am simply agog and breathless with enthusiasm as I read a small book at what the spring wardrobe will be. I can't give you a complete picture yet, but I can tell you this much, The hats are really beautiful and very splashy. The shapes are flattering and the colors are just out of this world. Big, big flowers, little flowers, buds and daisies of all sorts are used to ornament the crowns and brims. If you see them you'll buy them, you'll not be able to resist! I was told that it is not too soon to wear the new hats. They are already being worn in social functions such as teas, weddings and dress up affairs that require hats. Gone are the days when we aren't allowed to wear white except in the summer and colorful light weight hats only in the warmer seasons.

The fashion designers who tell us what we can or can't wear have suddenly decided to let us have more freedom so white is now called "winter white" and the lighter hat fabrics have been winterized. If we want to put a fancy frothy and colorful hat on our heads in January the designer and fashion editor tell us to go to it. That is the most encouraging word we've had in generations and if we get into a January mood slump we can dance ourself into a store, buy a gay new hat and wear it! It simply tortures a woman to death to have a new hat and to not be able to wear it until Easter. If you are planning to dash down to Bermuda for a week and I saw just what you'll need. Matched separates; blouses, Jamaica shorts skirts and a new length pant. In between the slim Jim and pedal pusher lengths. You'll love them as they too, simply go to town in a riot of color. The shorts are reversible, plain on one side and print material when reversed. The new play clothes are the slightest looking looking outfits you can imagine. They will put your eyes out, but oh, so pretty! As if seeing all this wasn't enough I found a new line of costume jewelry that is perfectly stunning. I never can get by the costume jewelry counters without a look and this time was no exception but now I'm glad I stopped. This new type jewelry is from Italy and is entirely different from any thing I've ever seen before. It is bold and colorful and has unusual styling. It is on the expensive side but once in awhile the very difference between being completely well dressed and partially well dressed is that bit of distinctive costume jewelry that catches the eye. Don't be afraid of it! If chosen carefully and worn with confidence it can mean a lot of compliments for you. After all, when someone admires the things you are wearing it means they are complimenting your good taste. Some of the spring dresses in print and stripes are in stock but as yet the dress and suit departments are more or less in between seasons. One of the buyers, in a suit department, told me that the 3 piece suit is coming in with a bang and that's good news to my ears. I don't think you can beat a nine suit with a light weight copper to match, do you? This will give all of you something to brood about for a few weeks while getting things in order for your next shopping spree. It's this time of the year that we gals become desperate and simply must direct our thoughts to more pleasing things such as new clothes!

This recipe takes a prize for being short and sweet and thanks must go to Mrs. Arnold Lloyd for loaning me her book of collected recipes.

In a recent speech that he gave before his fellow students, Wally Mohr clearly expressed his views on teen-age recreation in Drayton Valley. This topic has, for some time now, been the basis of many lively discussions and each time a few new points are added. Always, it appears, the adults feel that we have ample recreation facilities while the "teens" is inclined to feel differently. It is with this thought in mind that I'd like to express the sincerest thanks to two organizations that are thinking of 10-day's teens and tomorrow citizens. In a dance that was held on January second, the B.I.K.S. and the ROYAL PURPLE played host to a large crowd of fun loving students from in and around Drayton Valley. Everything was "on the house" and not one guest left without having had a wonderful time with the only well dressed is that bit of distinctive costume jewelry that catches the eye. Don't be afraid of it! If chosen carefully and worn with confidence it can mean a lot of compliments for you. After all, when someone admires the things legain in the near future.

Hard working Norma Oberg is preparing her staff for advertisement sales for the Scope and would like to remind business establishments in and around Drayton that they'll be calling very soon. The Scope is our high school yearbook and the whole staff has set its goal as being "improvement" at a low rate, or dies." Here's hoping to improvement because we would sure miss those sweet kids.

Speaking on behalf of the High School, I'd like to express a warm welcome to two new students to our fair school. Ron Wilson, tall, dark, and handsome, comes to us from Drumheller where he was taking grade ten at the Drumheller High School. Ron likes everything about our town and especially the friendly atmosphere that our town is famous for. Sony Plain has lost Howie Jensen forever and we have gained a top notch curler it appears. Howie and Ron both share an interest in sports, of all kinds. Asked what he thought of our town, Howie replied, "So far—no good." We hope that he continues to think so and that both Ron and Howie take to us as we have taken to them.

So, until next week, "adieu amigos".

Grabbers and Servants

This week's contribution to the Series by local Church Leaders is presented by Rev. A. Wright of the Drayton Valley United Church.

Many years ago a distinguished military leader is said to have made this statement: "The world is not a milk and honey doo. It is a thieves' den in which the violent survive and the submissive succumb. In it, two things predominate -- you grab or you are grabbed. I prefer to be a grabber rather than a grabbee."

There are many people who have adopted the philosophy of life as a basis for daily living. Nebuchadnezzar, Napoleon, Attila and Hitler may be cited as examples of grabbers who have achieved lasting success through this method.

Jesus said, "He who would be greatest among you, let him be your servant." Many years ago Rudyard Kipling addressing the graduating class at McGill University gave this advice. "Do not care too much for money or power or fame, for, he said, 'some day you will meet a man who cares for none of those things... and then you will know how poor you are.'"

Recently a servant of the people, Premier Paul Sauve of Quebec, died suddenly. His death brought men and women from near and far to the realization that the world had lost a servant. This man literally gave his life in the service of his fellow man. Not long ago Dr. Sidney Smith, Canada's Minister of External Affairs gave his life in a similar manner. Let us remember that in political office as in other areas of responsibility there are many great servants. These men stand before us as spiritual giants towering over the small materialistic grabbers. We must all decide whether to be a servant or a grabber. Will the world be a richer world tonight because of the service that you have rendered to it today or will it be poorer because of what you have grabbed from it? The grabbers may seem to make temporary gains but history tells us that ultimate triumph always belongs to the servants.

MEMBERSHIP CARDS
NECESSARY FOR USING SKATING RINK

Get your membership tickets this week! Members of the D.V. Athletic Association are making a door to door drive this week selling their membership tickets for the rink. This amount entitles the entire family to participate in the recreational program which, of course, includes the skating and hockey rinks. Supervisors at the skating rink will check membership cards so be sure that you and your children have the card available so that you may use the rink. At this time the rink is open for skating under supervision from 4 to 6 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. on Mondays thru Friday. The Saturday and Sunday hours are 1 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. If the Association can get more Supervisors they would like to have the rink open from 2 to 4 p.m. each week day afternoon and from 10 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturday. Members of the Association Board of Directors are now doing the Supervising and to extend the skating hours for early afternoon and Saturday morning they are asking for additional volunteers. If you can spare any time for this purpose call Pete Nebo at 250 or Jack Falls at 288 82.

The Association has appointed 3 new members to serve on the Board of Directors and to fill vacancies recently created. Don Schoop, Jim Wilson and Bill McCallister will be the new board members. The Board of Directors of the Drayton Valley Athletic Association is composed of 21 members who meet once a week and who are responsible for the association's policies and programs.

D.V. Hospital Women's Auxiliary

The regular meeting of the Drayton Valley Hospital Women's Auxiliary will be held on Monday, January 18th at 8:30 p.m. in the new Nurses' Residence.

We will be honored by a guest, Mrs. E. P. Richardson, President of the Associated Auxiliaries of Alberta, who will install the new officers for the coming year. All interested ladies are invited to attend.

HERE AND THERE

A Barnhead resident, Mr. T. C. Krause, was a Drayton Valley visitor recently. Mr. Krause was visiting with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mary Ward.

Anne Klempier apparently was not quite satisfied with her name, at least an announcement of her engagement to Dennis Carter was made recently. She will soon be Mrs. Carter.

The hillbilly gal felt strongly attracted to a handsome young tourist from the city. She stood up to him finally and stated, "My paw is the best shot in these parts." "What does that make me?" he said. "My fiancée," she answered with a sheepish grin.

TOGETHERNESS?

For all of today's talk of "togetherness", many thousands of people living in close association with others in our complex society suffer from loneliness.

An article in the current Maclean's points out that while loneliness may sometimes be constructive, resulting in great writing or other works of art, it is more often destructive and is frequently a serious psychological ailment.

It is often a step on the road to more recognizable forms of mental illness, and is also often the cause of such other human problems as alcoholism, prostitution, compulsive eating and homosexual relationships, the article says.

"Our loneliness, many gals drift into tragic situations," says author Dorothy Sangster. "A surprisingly large number of unmarried mothers are lonely, immature people who misook sex for love."

Even during infancy, loneliness may begin to develop, says the article. "If a child is emotionally deprived in his early years, when his mental life is in process of formation, he may develop deep and long-lasting ill effects."

Material success is no guarantee against loneliness, Miss Sangster points out. She cites the case of diamond-store heiress Barbara Hutton, who has been married six times but is still "terribly one of the loneliest women on the planet."

Last week's paper gave a listing of the 1959 census of Town of Drayton Valley. This census was compiled from reports of the census which is taken by each town and village in March of each year.

According to the March 1959 census Drayton Valley was in fourth place in towns outside the metropolitan area, such as the towns in the metropolitan areas of Edmonton and Calgary, which will eventually be amalgamated with the cities to which they are joined.

Leading towns were Taber with 3,913, second was Ponoka with 3,691 population, in third place was Stettler, with 3,559, and close behind was Drayton Valley with 3,528. The rate of annual growth in Stettler certainly does not compare with the annual growth of Drayton Valley who undoubtedly next March's figure will show Drayton Valley ahead of Stettler, in third place and perhaps even ahead of Ponoka for second place.

Other towns in a similar population range with Drayton Valley are, Edson, with 3,227, Wainwright, with 3,269, and Fort Saskatchewan, with 3,244. Drayton Valley is larger than two cities, Drumheller, with a population of 2,650 and Lloydminster with 2,783. Hinton, "old" and "new" towns combined, has a population of 3,190.

In building in Drayton Valley reaches over the million and quarter mark by the end of 1959, and with the large amount of building which is slated for next year, including $134,000 for a completion of the rest of the high school and $90,000 for the fifteen bed addition to the hospital. Recently granted permits, up to the end of 1959 were all for residences.

"Daddy, what is a bachelor?" "A bachelor, sonny, is a man who didn't have a car when he was in his teens."

"face of the earth," and millionaire Roy Thomas, who she quotes as saying: "It's pretty lonely up here at the top."

The article describes the mental exercises which some were prisoners undertook to overcome loneliness, particularly during solitary confinement, and tells how one prisoner feared he had failed to win the struggle: "When he was finally released he was afraid to speak for fear his first words would prove him mad."

What can people do to combat loneliness? Often, says Miss Sangster, mild cases can be overcome by developing new interests and hence winning new friends. But a more basic solution to the problem is suggested by a quotation from the writings of the late Martin Hillard, the renowned gynecologist: "Faith is the antidote... with faith comes the ability to love... If you are able to love, you will be loved."

Lodgepole was listed in March, last year, as having a population of 568, L.D. 77, exclusive of Drayton Valley and Lodgepole, has a population of 2,704 according to the March estimate.

Given under my hand at the Town office this 28th day of December A.D. 1959.

Returning Officer.

D.V. Highlights

BY: EDITH DEBY

Miss Barbara Ploom will begin nurse's training at the University Hospital's next month.

More than thirty of Mrs. W. W. Hill's friends gathered at her home on the evening of January 7th. The surprise party was in honor of Mrs. Hill's birthday. Mr. H. D. Huntington also shared the congratulations, at his birthday party on the same day. The evening passed very pleasantly in conversation and a game of whist. Mrs. H. D. Huntington and Mr. A. Gréide were the prize winners while Mrs. R. Forbes and Mr. O. Stordeval received consolation prizes.

Refreshments included two birthday cakes which, of course, were much appreciated by the guests.

Friends who are fleeing south to escape the winter include: Mrs. Hill St. to Florida and Larry and Ellen Vickrey and Carl Gamble to Mexico.

Mr. Billy Ross, of Campton Cross, Ar. flew to Vancouver last week to attend his mother's funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Holmes visited Mrs. Holmes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stordal, recently. Mr. Holmes is teaching near Rocky Mountain House this winter.

Mrs. Noreen Jorgensen is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Landis, this week.

We were privileged to witness an unusual competition recently. It had much to recommend it. Equipment is simple and inexpensive and does not involve fifty thousand dollar debentures backed by the taxpayer.

This entertainment was completely impromptu and unheeded, although it must be admitted that the contestants had had many years of constant practice.

The situation evolved thusly: A group of homemakers were visiting when the conversation drifted to a discussion of the best tool to use for peeling potatoes. Each lady present expressed her opinion. But Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Huntington were most emphatic in their choice. Mrs. D. favored a paring knife; Mrs. J. would use nothing but a peeler. One word led to another until a challenge was flung and accepted without hesitation.

A large pan full of potatoes was brought up, and the battle was on!

Faster and faster flew the fingers as the contestants buried criticism of each other's efforts. Mrs. J.'s peeler showered bits of hide on everyone. Mrs. D.'s knife reduced potatoes like pumpkins to golf ball size - and who wanted to have all those potato eyes loitering at him from his plate?

Observers took sides and each urged his contestant to greater speed. There is little doubt that our candidate, Mrs. J., would have made a much better showing if Mrs. D.

had not taken advantage of her opponents' keen sense of humor to make her helpless with laughter prepared to defend her title against all challengers.

Mrs. Huntington is, therefore, Potato Peeling Champion, and is prepared to defend her title against all challengers.

LOW PRICED FABRICS HIGH FASHION RESULTS

Drapsery fabric can be costly. And the selection of fabric for your living room, especially, should be a careful, long term investment.

But in every other room in the house, you can consider upholstery materials that help trim your housekeeping budget.

Patchwork floor length drapsery for bedrooms and a new vogue. These can be made from coloured sheets or bargain remnants. The "patches" should be long rectangles, don't get involved with irregular shapes, and confine yourself to two or three solid colours. The results can be decidedly handsome.

Terry cloth by the yard or over-size bath towels are a favorite for bathroom windows. If your ceramic tile walls are a solid colour and your floor has no pattern you may like patterned terry-cloth. Your curtains might be cafe style with large brass rings slipped through a brass rod.

Terry-cloth is also useful to cover cushions for the recreation or child's room.

Burlap, denim and corduroy are popular for drapsery. And both denim and corduroy can be used for upholstery, too.

A friend recently updated her dowdy, old-fashioned dining room chairs with corduroy. The wood of the Victorian chairs was painted in a tough, off-white enamel and the seats and backs were upholstered in plaid and white checked corduroy. The same fabric was repeated at the windows.

Pretty dress clothes are at home at your kitchen window. If you have a modern kitchen, complete with ceramic tile walls, mosaic tile counters and up to date appliances, include in any type of pattern. Run the gamut from mad modern design to plain provincial. However, if your kitchen frankly needs redecorating, confine your choice of patterned fabrics to traditional designs.

Don't feel hemmed in by old-fashioned concepts about fabrics. Shopping in the drapery department can be expensive - so try the dress fabric department. If the material is serviceable and washable - then use it with confidence.

Women's Army Corp during the war and served for three years. When she was discharged from the army at the close of the war she entered missionary training college in Toronto, the Anglican Women's Training College.

While taking the three year course at A.W.T.C. Miss Cordling went out each summer in some phase of missionary activity. The first year she served on the mission field with a Mobile Sunday School van, stationed at Athabasca. These Sunday School vans are a regular part of the Anglican mission field work. Two girls go out together in the van, one of the driver and the other as teacher. They live right in the van while they conduct summer high school classes.

During Margaret's second year she was stationed in the Anglican Mission in Drayton Valley during the summer months, and the third summer she took a Missionary Health Institute course in the M.H.I. in Toronto, in which she learned practical nursing and first-aid. Following graduation from A.W.T.C., she came to serve the Drayton Valley Anglican parish as Deaconess in 1949. She served in that capacity, acting as nurse for this district, while until the oil boom brought in an influx of new people and changed the entire picture.

While in the district in the pre-oil-boom days Miss Cordling had a well known home "Dolly" which she rode to cover the various charges in the parish outside of Drayton Valley, Violet Grove, Eastford, Pembina (the district west of Violet Grove) and Rocky Rapids. Both Margaret and Dolly were familiar sights along the roads and trails of this district as they covered the district in the work of the Lord. Dolly, too, had some claim to fame, as her picture appeared in an oil magazine in the beginning of the oil boom here.

When the oil boom came Margaret graduated to a Model A Ford car, which proved to be better fitted to travel on the kind of roads we had in this district in 1954 and 1955 than most of the newer cars.

In the fall of 1955 Miss Cordling resigned her charge to go to St. Albans the Marry Anglican Church in Toronto where she served as deaconess for almost a year, until she returned to her home at Blue Ridge for her marriage to Mr. Lief Stordalvoll. Lief and Margaret were married in May 1956. Following their marriage, Mrs. Stordalvoll came to the farm west of Violet Grove where she settled down to become a housewife. The Stordalvolls now have two little girls.

Mr. Stordalvoll was born in Norway, and received his education there, where he would be equivalent of a Canadian grade twelve. He came out with the family to Canada when he was seventeen years

DRAYTON VALLEY FIFTH ANNUAL ICE CARNIVAL

Plans for the Fifth Annual Ice Carnival for this district are well underway. This year will see a new and very fine change in the set-up, with the Carnival being staged indoors, at the Curling Rink instead of the outdoor rink as was previously the case. Another innovation this year is the matinee, giving us two shows. First performance will be at 3:00 p.m. and the second will begin at 8:00 p.m. Date set for the Carnival is Saturday, February 6th.

This year's Ice Carnival is sponsored by the Boy Scout Committee Association. In 1956, 1957, 1958 and 1959 the Rotary Club was co-sponsor with the Boy Scout Association.

Gordon Liney, Top Canadian Professional Precision Skater, who has been here on several previous occasions will be a featured attraction again this year. Another Professional, Carol McMillan, will also be here along with about forty other entertainers from the Edmonton Amateur Figure Skating Club. As usual, there will be hilarious comic act of various kinds during the show. Marlene Robinson, a local girl, will also be a featured attraction.

Carrying the banner as candidates for the title of Carnival Queen this year are three lovely young ladies of Drayton Valley. Miss Beverly Endicott, representing the High School, is being sponsored by the Merchants of Drayton Valley. Miss Verna McDonald, is sponsored by the Pine Line, Service and Supply Companies and Miss Pat Fry is sponsored by the Producing Companies. The method of combining various groups to sponsor a Queen candidate is a new departure also. In the past, individual companies have sponsored their own separate choice as queen candidate.

First year, in 1956, five girls entered the contest for Carnival Queen, they were, Miss Joyce Humphreys, sponsored by Flint Rig; Miss Gladys Larsen, sponsored by Mobil Oil Pegasus Club; Miss Maxine White, sponsored by Pembina Pipe Line Club; Miss Irene Beckley, sponsored by Security Engineering Company and Miss Joy Ann Patterson, sponsored by Dowell, Inc. Voted Carnival Queen that year was Joy Ann Patterson, who is now sister-in-law to the former Irene Beckley. Joy Ann had the distinction of being the first girl to be crowned Carnival Queen in Drayton Valley. In 1957, the second year of the Ice Carnival, there were five contestants, Miss Marilyn Mitchell, sponsored by Pembina Pipe Line Club; Miss Sophia Horta, sponsored by Mobil Oil; Miss Donna Lloyd, sponsored by Standard Oil and Gas Co. (Now Pan American Petroleum Corp.); Miss Kay Ramor, sponsored by Hiltunen Company, and Mrs. Anne Luman, sponsored by Hughes Tool Co. Miss Sophia Horta won the crown that year.

The Third Ice Carnival, in 1958, saw four girls in the running as candidates for the Queen title. Miss Joan Vandenberg, sponsored by Drayton Valley Supply Stores, Miss Carole Lindskog, sponsored by Drayton Valley Curling Club, Miss Shirley O'Ball, sponsored by Mobil Oil; and Miss Sherry Scott, sponsored by Pan American Petroleum Corporation. Winner in 1958 was Miss Sherry Scott.

Last year, 1959, four girls were lined up as candidates, they were: Miss Darlene Campbell, sponsored by Mobil Oil; Miss Gayle McManis, sponsored by Drayton Valley Supply Stores; Miss Carole Parenteau, sponsored by Pan American Petroleum Corporation, and Miss Sharon Woods, sponsored by Pembina Pipe Line Ltd. Winner of the Queens' crown was Sharon Woods.

Interesting, too, are the various dates on which the Carnival has been held. The first year, 1956, it was on February 17th. In 1957, the date was February 22nd. In 1958, the Carnival was held on February 28, and last year it was staged on February 7th.

Admission tickets for the big ice show are on sale at the Hudson's Bay Store, at the Coffee Bar. The tickets for your choice as Carnival Queen may be obtained from any of the sponsoring groups. As in the past, each ticket will count for one vote, so buy lots of tickets to give your favorite contestant lots of votes for the Queens' title. All the money goes to a very worthy cause.

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR CHILD

The first Elks Bonspiel in the Drayton Valley Rink was held over the past week-end, January 18 and 19th, with a total of twenty-eight rinks participating. Two rinks were awarded from Hinton, five from Wildwood, four from Gairfield, five from Enrville, four from Edson and eight from Drayton Valley. A very fine time was enjoyed by all. The Entertainment Committee of the local lodge was responsible for all arrangements and reports indicate they did a very fine job, hosting the 'spiel.

Placing first in the First Event was the E. Patrick rink, from Edson; second was the W. Davies rink from Drayton Valley; third was the G. McGee rink from Wildwood, and fourth was the Buster Travis rink, Gairfield. In the Second Event, first place was taken by the O. Field rink, of Edson, second by the Dave Gylander rink of Wildwood. LODGEPOLE MAN DIES IN SLEEP

Mr. Lou Brodeur, of Lodgepole, was found dead by neighbors on Wednesday morning, January 20th. Apparently Mr. Brodeur had passed away in his sleep. Mr. Brodeur came to Lodgepole early in 1956, soon after the Town was laid (cont. page 2, column 5)
